Information Disclosure Statement

1. The IDS filed 09/23/05 has been fully considered.
2. It is suggested that Applicants cancel claims 36 in response to this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mosley (US 6,770,969 B2).

Mosley shows in Fig. 4, a decoupling capacitor 100 between a first semiconductor chip 403 and a second semiconductor chip 406, where the decoupling capacitor 100 comprises first and second electrode plates 133 (see Fig. 1A).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mosley '969 as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Stone (US 5,530,288).

As per the above discussion, Mosley '969 teaches having the decoupling between the first and second semiconductor chips 403 and 406, but fails to teach including a Ball Grid Array (BGA) package. Stone teaches including a BGA package (please see claim 7). Hence it would have been obvious for Mosley '969 to practice using a BGA package, as is notoriously known.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2, and 4-33 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The applied reference '969 fails to teach further comprising rerouting lines which is coupled with the first semiconductor chip 403, wherein the first semiconductor chip 403, first electrode plate 133, and the first rerouting lines constitute part of a first rerouted chip as claimed in claim 2.

6. Claims 34-35 remain allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the applied references fail to teach and/or suggest the limitations as set forth in claims 34 and 35.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4, 7 and 8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
